Telegrams

(By Havas Agency)

New York, 2nd—Marquis J de Francavilla, First Secretary of the Italian Legation at Washington, received a letter from the Secretary of State, Mr. Blaine, stating that the Government regretted the departure of the Italian Minister and was willing to pay an indemnization regarding the massacre of Italians in New Orleans.

Rome, 2nd—According to instructions received Count Antonelli has returned to Massaua.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH.

Every day brings fresh alarms about imported cases of yellow-fever from Brazil. The Government seem to think that by sending the passengers to Martin Garcia they fulfil every obligation as regards the protection of public health. It may be that such precaution will for the present prove sufficient, but there is a widespread conviction that the interests of Buenos Ayres demand the closing of all Argentine ports against vessels from Brazil during the first four months of every year. Exception might be made in the possible event of no cases of yellow fever occurring during the month of January of any year at Rio Janeyro and Santos.

As a rule the Brazilian ports are hotbeds of yellow fever during the summer months, and past experience shews how easily it may be imported. Common prudence, therefore, suggests that Buenos Ayres should take every measure to prevent the introduction of so deadly an epidemic. We do not yet forget the plague of 1871, which swept off 26,000 of our citizens. What guarantee have we that if yellow-fever be again imported we may not have to deplore another similar calamity?

By closing Argentine ports against all arrivals from Brazil during four months of each year we may cause a certain inconvenience to trade. Mail steamers from Europe would be compelled to come direct, as some do at present. Trade with Brazil would be suspended during those months. This is, however, a much less evil than the constant danger in which we at present stand of seeing Buenos Aires visited by a calamity of the most appalling magnitude, for nobody can doubt that the condition of the city is unsanitary enough at present.

BRITISH LOCAL CHARITIES.

The dramatic performance which comes off to-morrow evening at the Opera House, under the auspices of Professor Martin, has a special claim upon all classes of our community, being for the benefit of the 3 local charities, British hospital, I[..]phanage and the Benevolent [..]

About a month ago we published [..]tory of the British hospital from its foundation, shewing the valuable services it has rendered since 1844. Suffice it to say that it is in every respect an honor to the British public, and is at present on a much better footing than in former years. It receives more than 500 patients yearly, and these are so well attended to that the death-rate does not exceed 6 per cent.

As for the Irish Orphanage, founded by Father Fahey in 1857, we believe the Sisters of Mercy have more than 100 little girls under their charge. This is a most deserving charity, and has always been viewed by the British public of Buenos Ayres with singular regard. Many of the oldest merchants, such as the late Thomas Drysdale, were munificent benefactors, and the Irish Convent is no less fortunate in possessing the sympathies of the merchants and bankers of to-day.

The Benevolent Society is another institution of primary necessity, having for its special object the providing of assistance to British or American immigrants or others in need.

People are doubly willing to give their money to charities of this description when they know it is honestly and judiciously administered, as occurs in the institutions above mentioned. There is no waste, no defalcation, and every dollar contributed is turned to the best possible advantage. We expect, therefore, to see the Opera House to-morrow night crowded from floor to ceiling. The bill of fare is admirable and promises a great treat, combining pleasure with philanthropy. Professor Martin is always successful in his efforts to this end, and deserves the warmest thanks not only of the sick, the orphans, and the distressed, but of all his country-men.

We wish to call our readers attention to a few very important points in connection with Professor Martin's entertainment at the Opera House on Saturday next. The first is that the Opera House being constructed something on the lines of the Grand Opera in Paris has no "boleteria" at the Grand Entrance in Calle Corrientes, so that all those persons who may have waited till the evening of the performance to take their seats and entradas, will be compelled to go not to No. 1 round the corner—but to No. 359 round the corner, i. e., Calle Suipacha. Secondly, the Entertainment will commence at eight sharp with the overture from Martha by a full orchestra, Sr Furlotti wielding the baton. The music during the evening includes some choice pieces from Wagner, Bucolossi, Sullivan, Pouchielli etc. and will be all that could be desired. The overture will be followed by the "Fair Encounter" and at 9 p.m. 'The Follies of a Night.' Tramways and trains in all directions, the Managers of Railways and Tram Companies vying with each other to take their patrons comfortably home, and make a success even in these hard times of the triple Charity Entertainment.

ANTI-STATE-BANKING ASSOCIATION.

Mr. Editor,

The inhabitants of this republic should feel grateful to you for the persistence with which you have fought against the iniquitous system of State Banking which has brought so many disasters upon the Country, but I am afraid that the results have not equalled the efforts you have made, and this simply because of the direction they have taken. In the hope that I may suggest to you and your colleagues, who have the same cause at heart, a line of action by which you may aid in ridding the country, once for all, of this vampire that is sucking its life-blood, I ask room for this communication.

There is no doubt that the financial crisis has been directly brought about by the cursed weakness of the Government, and that the beginning of it was the decree of the Roca administration declaring "curso forzoso" in order to save the National Bank; and it is evident from late events that the men at present in office are prepared to prescribe an increased dose of the same fatal drink whenever they may think it necessary. In view of this you merely lose your breath, while you sigh that Government may so act as to rid us of this evil. Do you believe that it alone, like the spear of Achilles, can cure the wound that it has made? Pressure from without must be brought to bear upon it. Any means which Government may adopt of itself is only likely to make matters worse. Who is to guarantee that, should it undertake to-morrow to introduce the Banking system of England or France, it may not make a worse mess of things than when it introduced that of the United States? The prayer of sensible men is that the Government cut all connection with banks. You, Sir, some time ago hoped that President Pellegrini might do something to right things; yesterday you thought that Minister Lopez was the man destined to crush the Hydra, and to-day you see the promised saviour in General Mitre. Vain hopes all.

"Trust not for freedom to the Franks!"

Who support the State Banks and maintain them chronically in a position to carry periodical financial ruin over the country? The Federal and Provincial Governments? Not at all. They were originated by the Governments, but they are supported and enabled to carry on their depredations by depositors. Without deposits no bank can exist for any length of time. And who are the sufferers by the mismanagement of the State Banks? Surely in the first place and most directly the depositors. So depositors support these banks to their own ruin—in fact, these wretched people are much in the case of Byron's eagle, that

"Viewed his own feathers on the fatal dart,
And winged the shaft that quivered in his heart!"

Now, sir, it is time that these people should be made to know the real state of the case, and how they are the cause of ruin to themselves and to the great mass of inhabitants of the Republic. They have trusted again and again to the Government, but this, in order to support the mismanagement of State Banks, has set itself to do in real earnest what the Magician of the Arabian Nights was fabled to have done. It is fast turning the money of the people, which represents their labour, economies and prudence, into pieces of waste paper. But what remedy is there for this state of things? To cause depositors to withdraw their money from the State Banks? Such, no doubt, would be the ultimate effect of the measure which I am about to propose, but to incite directly to such a course in the present [..]al condition of the country would be merely to declare oneself ready to give over to blind panic and unreasoning fear the work that can only be effectually done by disciplined organization and intelligent co-operation. When you want to set a mill a-going you don't order the dam to be blown up. What I propose is the formation of a great "Anti State-Banking Association," the object of which would be to enlighten the people on this matter, and agitate all over the country for the abolition of State banks. It is by such Associations that free men protect themselves against the evils that oppress them. An association procured the abolition of slavery in the British dominions; another secured Catholic emancipation; and at the present moment associations are bringing about the redress of the secular wrongs of Ireland. Were such an association started by influential men, it is not asserting too much to say that it would at once spring into existence fully armed, like Minerva, from the head of Jupiter, to do battle against the most crying wrong of this time. To it would belong, if the case were clearly stated, all the conservative elements of the country; every capitalist; ever trader who wishes to do an honest business; every daily worker who has raised his small pile against the rainy morrow; every man who holds money in public funds or private companies; he who has a house to rent, or property to [..]—all would belong to it. A thousand members being enrolled, the Government [..]st" feel that no longer could the blind ignorance of the people be reckoned upon to bolster up these rotten institutions. With ten thousand members, a head centre in the Capital and fifty branch centres in the Provinces, it could dictate terms to the Government should it show itself disposed to launch forth on further banking adventures. It could say to it: "You see that those who require and maintain Banks want not State Banks. As a Government you have quite enough to do to answer for your own credit without assuming responsibility for the management of Banks. Attend to your "Caja de Conversion" and thereby do all you can to undo the evil which your connection with State Banks has brought about."

Not alone, Mr. Editor, financially but politically [..] would the suggested Association be of benefit to the country. It is really extraordinary that a people, zealous of their freedom, should allow the governing body to wield such a powerful instrument of depotism as it possesses in the command of State banks. Badly managed, they have been the means of corruption, inflation of prices, depreciation of the currency, illegal issues, gambling, extravagance, depopulation, and lastly of widespread poverty, the usual concomitant of the other evils. But even so it is doubtful if they have been so great a danger as they might certainly be if well managed. Who can realize the power for ruining his country that an unscrupulous politician would find himself possessed of, if he had at command these banks replete with the untold millions of the depositors? Who can assure us—the present is not altogether an hypothetical case—that some Provincial Governor would not use such resources to embroil and disintegrate the Republic? Peoples who have long maintained their freedom have been ever jealous of the power of the "Purse." But it is not necessary for me to enter further on this aspect of the question. My object will be served if from the rough lines I have thrown on paper, you come to see that hope in this case must depend alone upon an intelligent and concentrated effort of the people, and especially of depositors, in their own defence. An Association such as I have suggested would be a great power behind the Government if disposed to do what the real interests of the country demand; and it would form an almost impassable barrier if it was inclined to enter upon further experiments founded upon an unguaranteed paper currency.

Yours truly,
Orm.

Buenos Ayres, April 2nd, 1891.

LONDON LETTER.

FINANCIAL FOG.

(From our own correspondent.)

Feb. 25th.

The position of affairs between the London Committee and the Argentine Government is to the general public inexplicable, and the usual authorities differ in their estimates of the situation. You may remember that when writing on the 21st inst I reported the arrival of unfavourable news from Buenos Ayres, but observed that up to the hour of posting it had no effect on prices in the Stock Exchange. That was on Saturday—a half holiday. On Monday there was a little panic in Argentines. This seems to have been independent of the political news referred to and to be attributed to "bear" operations preceding the settlement. On Tuesday, that is yesterday, there was a decided reaction, and Argentines, not only national loans but Cedulas and guaranteed railway stock, showed signs of recovery. So much so that Truth, a good and usually favouring authority in regard to Argentine stocks, recalled his own repeated advice to investors not to lose heart, as next Saturday the mail from the River Plate would bring the official adherence to the London Agreement, and in a few days more Messrs. Morgan would issue the new Customs loan, that might well be worth 90, if not par. After that Dr. Plaza would proceed to arrange the Cedula conversion and possibly establish the provincial loans on a firm footing. The Financial News, which seems to have made peace with the Barings and Rothschilds and other Argentine holders and agents, spoke shortly in the same roseate tone this morning. It is true that there were other voices less pleasant which cautioned us against being too ready to believe the contradictions to the Stock Exchange rumours which unsettled the settlement last Monday and drove down some Argentine loans two points. These voices tell us that if it be unfair to spread the old rumours of failures to come, and to mention the old names so frequently invoked in relation to Argentine finance, it is nevertheless too true that although sales made here and there may be indices fair enough of the prices of Argentine securities, it is well known that if the unhappy holders of such securities were to place any important amount of them on the market the whole thing would come down with a run. Still the world placed its faith in the bankers and in the Times and believed all was on the point of being arranged. It is all the more astonishing to find the following ominous observations in the Times city article of to day. It says:—"The time is fast approaching when either the Argentine coupon funding scheme proposed by the London Committee must be carried out or the Argentine Government will default on the interest on their loans. The coupon on the Internal Gold four and a half per cent loan matures on March 1st, and others follow in April. We believe that under pressure from certain quarters the Argentine Finance Minister has been informed by telegram that the London Committee are now prepared to carry out the funding scheme and rely upon the honour of the Argentine Government to complete the bargain agreed upon in principle when the negotiations for the settlement of the Buenos Ayres Water and Drainage Works were successfully concluded up to the point of signing documents some little time back. It is clear that the only alternative to the coupon funding scheme being carried through, is at all events temporary default, intimation of which has we understand been received here by telegram in pretty definite terms, with the addition that in the last resort the paper currency will be increased by a hundred millions of dollars. This is a very unwise attitude for a Government in such financial straits to take up, and at first sight it seems to be impossible that this thrust can be meant seriously, for the simple reason that such a reckless proceeding would in the long run damage the Government which adopted it ten times more than it would their foreign creditors. The one and only thing to save the Republic from delay in its political and commercial development is to preserve its fair name before the world for honesty and honourable dealing, and to dream of any other course is to erect a permanent barrier between itself and other nations."

These communications, whatever they are, from the Argentine Government, must be quite recent, and to call forth such remarks from the Committee's semi-official organ they must be serious and entirely shake the faith of outsiders in the hoped for results of the arrival of the mail on Saturday and in Dr. Plaza's active telegraphic correspondence which the Financial News this morning tells us he is already engaged in for the arrangement of the Argentine provincial loans. To an outsider the suspicion suggests itself that there are two sets of telegrams passing between London and Buenos Ayres [..]

[..] Committee has been punctually informed and has yet to hear more about the other.

A Dalziel telegram dated yesterday, from New York, gives the following history of the "Silver Pool" and its failure:—

"By the defeat of the Free Coinage Bill the great speculation in Wall Street has ended. Millions were lost in the deal.

"Last July, when it was thought that the bill providing for the purchase by the Government of 4,500,000 ounces of silver per month would pass, pools were made up to buy bullion in expectation of a great advance. The conclusion was correct. When the pools began operations silver was a dollar an ounce. On the passage of the bill it jumped to $1.21\frac{1}{4}$. To make the silver in a dollar worth a dollar in gold it would have to be quoted at $1.29. The men in the pool expected the price to go to $1.25. The law was to go into effect in August. The calculated production of the American mines for the ensuing year would be 65,000,000 ounces. Of this the Government would be required to purchase 54,000,000 ounces. The arts would use 9,000,000 ounces, and the surplus was reckoned at 2,000,000 ounces. America had previously been a heavy exporter. The pools conducted their negotiations entirely in New York. One, called the 'Congressional Pool,' was formed in Washington, the members being Senators and Congressmen. The orders of this pool were executed in New York. To facilitate operations a sort of silver clearing house was established. A company received the bullion on storage, and issued for it certificates, which were recognised by the New York Stock Exchange as good deliveries. Instead of having to deliver silver when a sale was made, certificates to represent the amount of the transaction were transferred. The Government bought on regular days in each week at the market price, but the store in the Safe Deposit vaults kept mounting up. The mines had all increased their output, and many of the old mines which had been abandoned on account of the low grade ores mined, which could not be melted with profit, were reopened. Even the refuse heaps were worked over. As the accumulation grew the price began to descend, and fell until it was below a dollar an ounce. Then the agitation for free coinage was started. If successful that would have provided a market for all the silver, no matter how great the amount. The agitation was so energetic that the price of silver rose to $1 13. When the opposition to free coinage increased the price fell below a dollar. There is now stored in New York 10,000,000 ounces at an average cost to the speculators of $1.10 an ounce. They are compelled to supply the Government in order to prevent it importing silver. Their sales have realised $1.05, and they have therefore lost 5c. per ounce. Their first losses were $2,000,000, and storage and interest made half a million more.

PARIS LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

February 21.

The unexpected Fine-Arts peace visit, or mission of the Empress Frederick to Paris, cannot do any harm. It is the special attribute of woman to deal in kindliness and to disarm hates. Any step or "rapprochement" to bring the German or French nations closer must have a "God Speed" from every common-sense person. The Empress was peculiarly fitted for promoting this good will between peoples. It grips the world's opinion to the side of the young German Emperor, while that opinion makes allowance for the peculiarities of French temperament.

Nothing can equal the democratic simplicity of the movements and affability of manners on the part of the Empress. She visits all the sights of the capital like a country cousin or a Cook's excursionist; is often only known after she has quit the visited lion. She dispenses with all parade, all official attentions; she takes her chance; and she knocks about in private carriage or on foot with an assiduity and rapidity only to be equalled by those of her own sons. Everywhere she is received with deference and respect; occasionally with curiosity, but never with any warmth. Yet she is doing good work all the time; she has whipped up a large number of artists who have promised to send pictures to the May Show of Paintings at Berlin. The best "salle" in the building is set apart for France. There is no reason why French artists ought not go and gather laurels at Berlin, as well as French [play]wrights, scientists and "industriels." A Jena victory in the world of fine arts is not to be despised.

The Empress recalls strongly her august mother, but her resolute features are sicklied o'er with the pale cast of thought, and the chastenings of sorrow have stamped also upon them a sympathetic sadness. But she never allows these to make her forget she is a woman of the world. She has nothing stiff in her manners, and possesses an inexhaustible fund of unstudied tact. She dresses in deep mourning. She is accompanied by her daughter the Princess Marguerite who resembles very much her brother; she is tall, slender, very blonde, good-looking rather than handsome, but possessing no distinctive individualism. She is the best dressed German lady that has yet been seen in Paris. There is nothing at all English about her; she is a "Fraulein" to the marrow.

As for any political advantages resulting from the visit these may unhesitatingly be set down at naught. French friendliness can only "commence" on the repossession, the evacuation of Alsace. No person expects that concession from the Emperor, even were it in his autocratic power to make. French friendliness will be 'consummated" when France regains her European prestige, of being the dominant power. Only war can effect these changes, a war on whose issue the life of either nation is involved. Happily or unhappily, both peoples fully comprehend that issue. It is to be sincerely hoped that France will not run away with the idea that Germany commences to tremble for her unity, that would be a grave misfortune, if such an interpretation was put upon the visit of Empress Frederick.

Foreign events have not been as smiling recently as the French could desire for their wishes. The change of ministry in Italy, while it may lessen the friction in the relations between the Latin Sisters, and so no small gain, will not affect the slightest change in Italy's union with Germany and Austria. Before the Triple Alliance the Marquis di Rudini is only another name for Signor Crispi. At the same time Italy has made [..]

[..] power, in being chosen by England as her European associate in the Appeal Court for purging the native Tribunals of Egypt of their corrupt, inquisitorial and Justice's justice characteristics. France feels sore about being invited to assist in the resurrection of Egypt; but then she has only herself to blame for her selfish blunder in 1882, by breaking her treaty obligations with England to sustain the Khedive's throne. By that act she rashly forfeited all claim to be a second time accepted an associate by England, and cut herself off from a very useful past record that she had to her credit in the Nile valley.

Anger is always a bad counsellor, and it is that impulse which has dictated France to withdraw her consent to measures for the abolition of abuses coming within the jurisdiction of the European powers. France will not bear in mind that the latter have not delegated her, but England, to reorganise Egypt, and that her protests are French, not international. Excepting the French colony in Egypt, the natives and the other Europeans are grateful for the prosperity and the reforms effected by the English administrators, who, having put their hand to the plough, will not look back by ill-humour on the part of France. The odium of having to impose additional taxes on Egyptians to complete native reforms will not make the name of France more loved, nor accelerate the departure of the British from Egypt—a departure which is about as remote as the evacuation of Tunisia by the French, for the two departures are politically interlinked.

Beyond doubt England has got wind of the exploring mission being organised to cut into the heart of Africa, which is in a sense No Man's Land still, though Soudan may be the hinterland of Egypt. This explains the advance of the Anglo-Egyptian army, Khartoum-wards, and which will arrive at its destination earlier than is generally supposed, and will give the hand to the closing in ring of the agents of the Niger and South African companies. It is believed that Osman Digna, unable to beat up recruits, is willing to be 'protected' by England, who, following the example of Russia in Central Asia, will convert a terrible adversay into a high, friendly functionary. So much the better for civilisation. The Soudanese are tired of Mahdism; they do not see sufficiently the finger of Mahomet in its fortunes.

The French Government has duly brought in a Bill according the right of association to all Frenchmen. Better late than never. The statutes of all new societies will be subject to the Govermental veto—the latter is at present exercised over the statutes of all existing associations. For the first time in the history of France, any society can henceforth be founded for carrying out lawful ends or utilitarian objects. For workmen without capital the boon may prove of the white elephant order, but it removes a grievance. The Cabinet might well study the organization of the system of Popular Banks, so successfully worked in Germany and Italy, and that render such practical assistance to heads with brains and hands capable of toil, if only aided by a little capital.

Another excellent move in the right direction is the constitution of a Superior Council of Labour. This body is composed of representatives from all classes, who have an intimate, an expert and an experienced acquaintance with the problems for ameliorating the condition of the working classes and the wants of labour. M. Jules Simon and Deputy Leon Say are members of this Council, so are employers, employees. The work of the Council is to collate, study and resume all that is practical and applicable to the working classes of France, from among the labour legislation of other countries, and the experiments of an unlaboratory character in process of being worked out. On the reports of this Council, the legislature will take action in founding Industrial Courts of Arbitration, State-assisted insurance for worn-out, invalid, age-infirm and accident-injured workers.

General Mitre, before passing into Spain, was interviewed as to the present condition and future prospects of Argentina. The candida e-President admits the present moment is painful, but nothing is beyond remedy by the exercise of care, prudence, and economy. The past has been a lamentable series of calamitous errors, but a firm and honest carrying out of reforms, of frugality, and going-ahead more slowly will recover lost ground, wipe out past follies, and secure a more solid advance for the country; from the chastenings she has undergone, sagacity will be secured. Out of the nettle danger the flower of safety can be plucked. The General is not unwell, but he has an anxious air and fully feels the magnitude of the task before him. Here, everyone wishes him God-speed.

COMMERCE OF U. STATES.

(From the N. York "Comm. Bulletin".)

1890 was the banner year in our foreign commerce. The total of our imports and exports reached 1,681 millions, which was 83 millions in excess of 1889, the next largest year. The imports amounted to 823 millions, or 53 millions in excess of 1889, which was the next largest year. The exports, though 30 millions more than for the previous year, yet fell below the figures of ten years previous. Comparing the movement with that of 1880, the exports show a decrease of 32 millions, while the imports exhibit a gain of 153 millions. Compared with 1876—fifteen years ago—the increase in the exports is 267 millions and the gain in imports 396 millions; the ratio of growth in the exports being 45.2 per cent and in the imports 92.8 per cent. The fact that the exports have increased during the fifteen years much less than half, whilst the imports have nearly doubled, must be a very disappointing result to those who have devised the highest and most obstructive tariff in the world for the express purpose of shutting out foreign products. The tariff has permitted an enormous increase of importations; but it has failed to produce an increase of exportable surplus of products in half that same proportion. Can it be said to have accomplished its boasted purpose?

CRICKET.

HURLINGHAM v. ROSARIO.

This match was played at Hurlingham on Wednesday and Thursday, 25th and 26th ult.

Hurlingham won the toss and went in to bat, losing four wickets for 51 runs. [..]

The weather fortunately cleared up and play was resumed on Thursday, Hurlingham raising the score to 101, to which Lacey, 31 not out, and T. A. H. Ford, 26, were the chief contributors.

Rosario followed and were all out for 51, only Drewitt getting into double figures.

In the 2nd innings Hurlingham lost five wickets for 67 (Lacey 19 and G. A. Thomson 21 not out) and declared their innings closed, leaving Rosario 117 runs to make. Unfortunately, time prevented the match being played out, as the finish would have been very exciting, Rosario standing at 77 for 5 wickets. Coubrough 17, North 16, and O'Donnell 13, batted well for Rosario.

THE LATE LORD GRANVILLE.

The Right Hon. Granville George Leveson-Gower, K.G., eldest son of the first earl, born May 11, 1815, was educated at Eton, and Christ Church, Oxford, where he took his degree in 1834, became attaché to the embassy at Paris in 1835, and was elected to the House of Commons for the borough of Morpeth in 1836, being re elected in 1837. Early in 1840 he accepted the appointment of Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, which he held for some months, and shortly after took his seat as member for Lichfield. While in the House of Commons he supported the Liberal party, and was an able and consistent advocate of free trade. In 1846 he succeeded to the peerage, in 1848 was appointed Vice-President of the Board of Trade, in 1851 obtained a seat in the cabinet, and in Dec. of that year succeeded Lord Palmerston in the Foreign Office, retiring with the Russell ministry early in 1852. Lord Granville, who has held the offices of Master of the Buckhounds, Paymaster general of the Forces, Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, and Treasurer of the Navy, was appointed President of the Council in 1853, and in 1655 undertook the ministerial leadership in the House of Lords. In 1850 Lord Granville acted as Vice President of the Royal Commission for the Great Exhibition, of which he was one of the most diligent working members, and accepted, in the autum of 1860, the Chairmanship of the Commission for the Great Exhibition of 1862. In 1856 he was sent upon an extraordinary mission to the court of St. Petersburg, as representative of the English nation, at the coronation of Alexander II. Lord Granville, who retired with Lord Palmerston's first ministry in 1858, was re-appointed President of the Council (having failed in an attempt to form a ministry himself) in Lord Palmerston's second administration in 1859, and retired on the fall of Lord Russell's second administration in 1866. Lord Granville was made Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports in Dec. 1865. In Dec. 1868, his lordship accepted office under Mr. Gladstone as Colonial Secretary, and retained that position till July, 1870, when he was appointed Secretary for Foreign Affairs in succession to the late Earl of Clarendon. He occupied the latter position until the resignation of the Liberal Cabinet in Feb. 1871. Early in the following year, when Mr. Gladstone retired from the leadership of the Opposition, Lord Granville became, by general consent, the leader of the Liberal party, Lord Harting ton being chosen as its spokesman in the House of Commons. On Mr. Gladstone returning to power in May, 1880, Earl Granville again became Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs. On June 12 in that year his lordship was presented with the freedom of the Fishmongers' Company. In Mr. Gladstone's ministry of 1886, Lord Granville held the post of Secretary of State for the Colonies.

WEALTH IN U. STATES.

In the course of an interesting article in the Forum, Mr Thomas Shearman, who has recently written much and interestingly on the growth of great fortunes in the United States, continues the discussion of this topic, and predicts that the near future in the United States will disclose the man worth a billion of dollars! The fortunes of to-day, colossal as they are, are the results of the same cause which, continually operating, will indefinitely expand them. Mr Shearman says: "The billionaire, if he ever comes, will not be the result of any inevitable natural law. He will be simply the product of indirect taxation. Maintain that system, and he will surely come, and that right speedily. Abolish it, and he can never come at all. No elaborate calculations are necessary to make this plain, although the correctness of the assertion has been tested by such calculations over and over again. Every indirect tax distributes itself among the people in proportion to the cost of their support; in other words, it taxes them upon what they spend, not upon what they have. The vast majority of any community must always have incomes so small that they cannot help spending three-fourths of what they receive. But the small minority of large property owners do not need to spend one-eighth of their incomes; and, as a rule, they do not spend one-half. Looking at the subject with reference to accumulated wealth, the man who is worth 1,000 dols. usually spends at least 500 dols. a year on the support of his family, while the man who is worth 1,000,000 dols. rarely spends 50,000. Indirect taxation, therefore, this [..] man would ever pay a larger share than a rich man, and, indeed, most of the working classes would pay no taxes at all, because the collection of direct taxes from them would be too laborious and expensive to be maintained."

Railway Items.

The Public Works' Department has reported in favour of the advisability of building a station at kil. 45 on the Chilcas-Santa Rosa Jujuy line, in the vicinity of Cabral de Juez, at a proposed cost of $13,130 gold.

The Minister of the Interior has issued a decree accepting the estimate sent in by Messrs. Lucas Gonzalez & Co. for painting the iron bridges on the Salta, Jujuy and Chilecito lines.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The weather was the nicest thing in or out of town yesterday—always excepting the ladies. Dame Rumour (lively old woman) was again on the war path and making signs to the Gold Eagle all day long. The result was that the noble bird soared in almost his best style.

We are sorry to hear that Lord Mayor Bollini's trip to La Plata did him no good, and that he is rather unwell. We wish him a speedy recovery.

The new Argentine torpedo-boats Espora and Rosales will anchor in port this morning. They made a fair run out from England.

The foundation stone of the Salesian Fathers new church and school at Bernal will be laid on Sunday next with great ceremony. We return our best thanks to the Committe for their kind invitation.

Town is filling fast and the suburban summer quarters are like banquet halls deserted. As for Mar del Plata the fashionables who still linger there to listen to what the wild waves are saying, can be counted on the figners of one hand.

Ciacchi as well as Ferrari intends to beard the Crisis ogre and has engaged a first-class opera company, of which Theodorini is the prima donna, and other favourites known here come with her.

There will be a grand gathering in the Opera House to morrow night. The boxes and seats have sold splendidly, considering the crisis. We witnessed the rehearsal yesterday and can assure our readers that Professor Martin, in his long career in charity's cause has never before provided such a treat for them.

The rise in gold and general bad-to-worse feeling that prevails in all classes has again brought to the front the amateur economists who consider it possible for a man to lift himself out of a ditch by a good strong pull at his own coat-collar. We also notice in a morning contemporary an amusing letter from Don Coupon Muerto ("muy muerto!") who not unnaturally wants to know why the suspension of payment by the La Plata Mortgage Bank should cause Cedulas to rise in price on the Bolsa? Perhaps the shade of that distinguished nobleman the late Lord Dundreary can answer the dreary question, but we cannot; except on the generally admitted principle that knowing the worst is better than suspense.

John Bull's losses in Argentine securities have evidently driven him to "drown his cares." A London contemporary says:—"It is appalling to find that the drink bill of 1890 amounts to 139,495,479*l.*, an increase of 7,282,194*l* over the sum of the previous year—all common sense and medical science notwithstanding. It is said to be equal to one-twelfth of the estimated income of all persons, to one fifth of the National Debt, and to be eight times more than the income of all the Christian churches. The bill for 1890 is larger than for any year but that of 1878, when it was more than 142 millions of pounds sterling."

The sudden twist taken by the question between Uncle Sam and the Italians is somewhat of a surprise, as the world at large was not even thinking of the paltry affair. The sting in the business is that the North Americans dislike the Italians as much as they do the Chinese, as they rival the Pigtails in working cheap. The whole thing is merely a diplomatic huff that will be eventually settled by means of those three valuable P's—pens, paper and palaver.

The Village of the Plain is happy. The town clock, which was suffering from an attack of the crisis in the shape of want of oil, is to be illuminated every night for the future.

The Rowing Club members meet to night to arrange the programme for the coming Regatta at the Tigre. "Row, bro thers, row."

A good story is told in the Spectator of one of the living bishops, who once stayed at the house of a country gentleman—a teetotaller. On the dinner-table there were no intoxicants, but the host said to his guest in an undertone, "My lord, you will find some wine in your bedroom." By and by the squire came to dine with the Bishop, and found wine set before him, but the Bishop also took care to say quietly during dinner: "Mr. So-and-so, you will find some water in your bedroom."

The Telegrafo Maritimo publishes a letter from the Old World which says that the Stock Exchanges of London, Paris and Berlin are all three as done up as the Hypothecary Bank. Argentines and Africans have played old Harry with the speculative digestion of Capel Court, and no wonder

The steamer Aquitaine started on her voyage to Europe with a triplet of bad omens: A child fell off the bridge and cracked its skull: a returning Ligurian had a foot smashed by a running chain, and finally a man fell overboard.

No drawing of City. Lottery Bonds this month, for reasons that are well and unfavourably known to "tout le monde." In fact, for a long time past the drawing of the numbers of this too famous loan was much of a farce, as drawing the money that fell to them was the impossible task that fell to the winners.

The Gazetta di Torino says that the Navagazione Generale Italiana has nominated Crispi as its lawyer, with a salary of 30,000 lire per annum. It seems that Crispi did not by any means show that equanimity which should characterise great men under adverse circumstances, but on losing office gave way, like Bismarck, to his feelings. On arriving home he dismissed all his servants at a fortnight's notice, and would see none of the persons who had been waiting for an audience. In his own room he appears to have "made hay," and, amongst other valuable articles, to have broken two rare Japanese vases which he had received in the Quirinal as a Christmas present.

Dr. Carcano, ex-Postmaster General left yesterday for Europe in the Alfonso XIII. He intends to reside permanently in Paris.

The new Catonian tax on beer came into force on All Fools' Day, a very appropriate date. Happy is the fool who can afford a bottle of beer once a week at the present Catonian prices, as the grocers and café men have given another twist to the screw, though they raised the price the moment Congress voted the new tax, having previously raised it when the new impost wast first mooted. Honest fellows.

The ladies' newspapers at home are discussing the 'trousseau' of the American lady who intends to pose to the world as a sort of female Stanley. They describe her jewelled dagger, which "she knows how to use," her delicate six shooter, with which she is in theory an expert shot, the plumed helmet she intends to wear, and the immense number of picturesque dresses with which she intends to soften the hearts of African potentates and dazzle the eyes of their wives. Borne in a beautiful palanquin on the shoulders of black porters, dressed in exquisite taste and truly American splendour, the latest explorer somehow seems to have stepped off the stage of "opera bouffe."

The drought in the Rio Negro Territory is the worst on record. The Governor declares that for eight months there has not been enough rain to give a bath to a midge. Cows and horses are, of course, dying, as there is not a blade of grass to be seen anywhere.

Yellow-fever continues to die out in Rio Janeiro On Tuesday only 39 cases were reported. The fever of speculation on the Bolsa has also abated, for the very good reason that the horse is tired, and his prophetic instinct warns him of the "cropper" in store for him. The Commercial Association has taken a leaf out of the Argentine book, and called a meeting of Notables to discuss the doleful prospects of the financial situation.

Truly sad sights were witnessed yesterday and the day before at the Provincial Bank when the crowds of Cedula holders who had gone to collect their coupons got the painful fact that there was no money for them well into their minds. It was particularly painful to see the women, many of them of a superior class, turn away, with their pocket handkerchiefs to their eyes and deadly pale; while those of a humbler sphere wept and wailed aloud. The hardy sons of toil, whose life savings are swallowed up, muttered curses not loud but deep, and many fathers of families amongst them had as big tears in their eyes as the women.

The little island of La Chroma, opposite the Dalmatian coast, which is celebrated for its almost tropical vegetation, and which was the property of the late Crown Prince of Austria, has been presented to the Dominicans at Ragusa, with an annual grant of 2,000 florins. The island is connected with the memory of Richard Cœur de Lion, who on his return from the Holy Land, was wrecked there. In commemoration of his escape he founded a monastery, which, however, was soon abandoned, owing to the constant attacks of pirates. Latterly the island became the property of the Archduke Maximilian, the late Emperor of Mexico, and after wards of the Emperor Francis Joseph.

When designers contest for a prize it can only result in a draw.

The theatrical manager is known by the company he keeps.

An evening contemporary has published an affecting tribute to the memory of the popular comic tenor Gerner. It is a nice piece of Spanish composition; but there is one weak point in it—Gerner is not dead, nor even thinking of "shuffling off."

The National Labour Office (which is in the Immigrants' Hotel at the Retiro, opposite the railway station) favours us daily with lists of those who can obtain employment on application. This office is doing good service now when employment is so scarce. It has now places open for farm hands, day labourers, cooks, tanners, nurses, housemaids, joiners, soap and sail makers, and cobblers

The post of manager of a cemetery is not an uproariously cheerful one, and its drawbacks are harder to bear when the incumbent is dismissed for his political opinions, with several months arrears of salary due to him. Such a hard case is reported in La Plata.

In answer to our appeal yesterday for the good girl who wishes to take home presents to her aunts, the enterprising proprietors of the English Book Store at Calle Florida have favoured us with a polite note suggesting that she should buy from them: "A Greeting from the River Plate," with 12 photographs of this city and parts of the republic; "The Album of Buenos Ayres," with 30 photographs, and two other works of more or less the same kind; all of which they will give her for the very modest sum of $5.

Archbishop Aneiros will leave on Tuesday next for Catamarca to take part in important religious ceremonies to be held there on the 12th inst. Government has placed at His Grace's disposal an express train and a hundred free tickets; a military escort and band will accompany the party.

A New York paper says:

"Miss Nellie Gould, daughter of the millionaire Jay Gould, is said to have made up her mind never to marry. This will be unpleasant news for the many young men who burden Mr. Gould's mail daily with proposals to become his son-in law."

El Domingo 12 de Abril,

a las 11 de la mañana.

Remataremos a la mas alta postura y dinero de contado por orden y cuenta de la "Sociedad Colonizadora Argentina" las tierras de la Colonia arriba mencionada que le componen de mil chacras de 25 hectareas cada una veinte quintas de 3 hectareas cada una, ciento cincuenta solares en el pueblo de 800 metros cuadrados cada uno.

Las tierras que ofrecemos en venta en esta Colonia son de las mejores de la Provincia por su inmejorable posicion como por la fertilidad de las mismas.

La Colonia "Ceres" esta convenientemente dividida en pueblo con sus solares, quintas y chacras, terreno muy alto y llano y esta cubierto en su mayor parte de pastos fuertes con algunos islet s de bosques cuyas maderas son quebracho, ñandubay, algarrobo, etc. etc. La capa de tierra vejetal es de noventa centimetros de espesor, encontrandose agua potable excelente a tres metros de profundidad. Su excelente situacion es de enorme ventaja pecuniaria para los agricultores pues queda sobre el gran Ferro Carril de Buenos Aires al Rosario, prolongacion de Sunchales a Tucuman, y tiene su Estacion propia del mismo nombre (Ceres) en el centro de la colonia la cual solo dista nueve horas del gran puerto del Rosario, lo que facilita y abarata el transporte y flete de sus productos.

Llamamos preferentemente la atencion sobre esta venta de los agricultores e inmigrantes que deseosos de labrarse un porvenir seguro y de resultados efectivos buscan en que colocar sus pequeños capitales para que ayuda los por su trabajo personal les de una ganancia suficiente para el sosten de los suyos y al mismo tiempo una pequeña utilidad para ahorro, base y cimiento a una fortuna que se va agrandando y consolidando con los años; pues es sabido que en nuestro pais las principales fortunas tienen por origen la ganaderia y agricultura.

Tenemos que hacerle presente que la colonia "Ceres" cuenta ya con un nucleo de mas de quinientos pobladores que es un aliciente mas para los nuevos agricultores al mismo tiempo de ser una gran ventaja, pues no carecen de este modo de los articulos de primera necesidad ni estan expuestos a las penurias de un campo fronterizo a poblar.

Por ultimo, y sobre este punto llamamos la especial atencion de las personas que deseen adquirir tierras de la mencionada colonia y las cuales carecen de capital suficientes para ello; pues son una insignificancia puedan hacerse propietarios de las mejores tierras de la Provincia de Santa Fe, llamada con sobrada razon "La Region del Trigo" en vista de las condiciones excepcionales y grandes facilidades para el pago.

La ventase efectuara sin base alguna en lotes a gusto de los compradores, los cuales al firmar el boleto pagaran la tercera parte del importe total de sus compras al contado, abonando el resto en plazo de tres años por anualidades con el 7 o|o de interes anual firmando pagare. Los que paguen al contado gozaran de una rebaja de 9 o|o Creemos que rara vez se les presenta oportunidad igual para la adquisicion de tierras de tal magnitud, lo cual no deben perder de vista.

Thursday, April 2nd.

As was expected, the situation shewed no improvement, but rather the reverse, and the dread of fresh emission seems to be taking more consistency every day The Patriotic Loan. According to the bulls, has been unavailing to stem the tide. Nothing but an emission is left, they say, and acting on the strength of their convictions they purchase gold right and left, only letting go to purchase afresh. It is well to remember that all this is pure surmise, based on the belief that the poverty-stricken state of the National Bank, Provincial Mortgage Bank, and even the National Government itself, must seek relief in that way—that is to say, in a fresh issue of paper money; and without doubt it is the strength of probability that is acting at present like a petard under the quotations. Were the market convinced that the Government, coute que coute, would not countenance a fresh emission of paper in any shape or form, tho gold quotations would most certainly decline. The bears, it is needless to say, expect daily a distinct declaration in this tenor. But the declaration is not forthcoming, perhaps for the very reason that it would be tantamount to admitting the strength of the bullish arguments; and so uncertainty on the one hand and apprehension on the other continue to exert their pernicious influence on the market. Gold is rising irresistibly and stocks are daily declining, shewing the growing distrust that pervades the atmosphere.

Gold spurted up at the first hour almost in a breath to 368. A panic seemed about to set in at this point, when fortunately it got wind that the bulls were overbought, and the rates came crashing down again, leaving off at one o'clock with sellers at 363. Stocks all round shewed a decided weak-kneed tendency, National Bank shares falling to 68.50 and closing at 69.50, whilst Catalinas ran down to 10.90, closing with sellers at 11.10. Some of the Patriotic Loan Bonds and Scrip changed hands at 67.50 and 15 respectively, thus already showing a stiff decline. Constructors were neglected at 8.20, and a small lot of Banco de Comercio shares changed hands at 80, this being a stock that very rarely comes on the market. Cedulas reflected no change, and many parties commented on the fact that Cedulas, which now give no interest at all, are firm, whilst the Patriotic Bonds, which give 8 o/o, are weaker every day. There is, however, a vast difference between the respective quotations, and even when the Cedulas gave 8 o/o interest they did not stand at the figure represented by the Patriotic Loan Bonds at present. A lot of 100 Edificadora shares at 90 brought business to a close.

It is announced that the promoters of the grand Cedula joint-stock company have received such encouragement from Cedula holders in general that the definite details are being arranged with a view to proceeding to the actual formation of the concern. We have already given the main features of the project, as well as the names of the promoters.

On Sunday next Messrs. Funes and Lagos will hold the first great auction of the splendid stock of the Frias Cabaña, Santa Catalina, on the estancia in Mercedes.

The Provincial Government has issued a decree authorizing the Mortgage Bank to receive payment of all arrears due to Dec. 31st, 1890, without "multa."

At the auction of live stock on Mr Senillosa's estancia San Felipe, in Ayacucho, everything sold well, the total realised being 70,000 m|n.

Messrs. G. Kelsey and Co. sold to day in the Constitucion Market 2,000 cowhides at 6 20 m|n.

In spite of the critical state of the market for business in general, the exportation of wheat goes briskly on, and we hear of a shipping company which has signed a contract for the transport of 5,000 tons for Antwerp and Liverpool. The rates are kept in reserve.

Discounts continue very tight in the market, and the banks only oblige their customers, first-class signatures being done at 9 and 10 per cent.

Messrs. M. Lazaro and M. J. Garcia have requested the Camara Sindical to take their names of the brokers' rol

The Provincial Bank was receiving today the second call on the Patriotic Loan. The Caja de Conversion has received during the past two days $1,400,000 on foot of same call, though in some instances subscribers paid up in full.

The Report of "La America" Insurance Company has been published, and shews that during the year the risks and premiums were as follows:—

	$ m/n
Fire risks	22,704,305
Premiums	135,753
Maritime risks	7,845,636
Premiums	53,323

The risks paid during the year amounted to 49,023 dols., and the net profits were 85,000 dols., out of which a dividend of 20 o|o was paid to the shareholders, leaving the reserve fund at 123,825 dols.

Yesterday the United States Consul received a letter from Usvaia, Tierra del Fuego, dated March 20th, announcing the total loss of the American barkintine Hustler in Nassau Bay, Cape Horn. The crew were all saved, and the letter stated that they would arrive here in a few days.

In Cedula circles, the great fall in the National A gold series gave rise to much comment, as they were done in the first ring at 41, an unprecedentedly low rate for this stock, and in the second ring at 47. The fact that the National Mortgage Bank has 25 millions deposited in the National Bank does not seem to inspire any increased confidence in the former, and many say that as the mortgagors do not comply with their engagements the bank may soon be in a sorry plight. It is well to bear in mind, however, that the National Mortgage Bank has the Nation at its back and not only is well managed, but is also free from the enormous burden that is crushing its Provincial colleagues. The crisis of course is telling on it as on everything else in the country, but this is far removed from suggesting or implying bankruptcy.

The Lamport and Holt s.s. Bellova arrived in Montevideo with Liverpool dates to 5th ult. and 3323 tons of cargo. She will be up to-morrow.

The ordinary general meeting of shareholders of the Old Gas Company will take place on the 6th inst., at 8 p.m., to receive the report and elect directors, syndic, etc.

Gold took another flight at the second hour and soared up to 367.50, after which it began to give way slowly, dropping gradually to 365, at which it left off at 4 30 p.m. In exchange we heard of very little doing, rates being quoted at 49½-⅝d. and 5 18 francs.

"Multas" were the order of the day in Catalinas, and much money was offering for right to ask for the shares to-morrow at advanced rates.

Business at the second hour was rather livelier than in the morning, due to a stiff rally in Catalinas for which many buyers entered the market. It is a peculiar feature of this stock that after a stiff fall there is always a brisk reaction provoked by heavy purchases, thus shewing that in the market good hopes of this stock are still entertained. National Bank shares and Cedulas just managed to hold their own. Constructors continued weak and neglected at 8.20.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks during the second ring:—

The Minister of Finance issued another circular to all the private bank managers to day calling their attention that, in spite of the decree of November last, exchange is still drawn in gold instead of in paper. His Excellency asserts that this tends in a great measure to increase the gold premium (in which he is mistaken) and calls on the managers to do their utmost to promote the drawing of exchange in paper, which he fancies will in some degree restore the value of the paper dollar.

The "Tierras y Colonias" Office has sent a long report to the Minister of the Interior showing the working of the decree of 24th January last. 121 holders of concessions have fulfilled the necessary formalities, but 2797 leagues of land have become forfeited to the State.

We are pleased to be able to state that a strong syndicate has been formed to enable Messrs Clark and Company, the contractors, to complete the construction of the North-East Argentine Railway. Large blocks of the securities of this line have been purchased, which may be taken as one of several satisfactory indications of an improved feeling in relation to Argentine investment generally. By the recent opening of sections to traffic, under guarantee, the responsibilities of Messrs Clark and Company have been materially lightened, and a favourably settlement of their affairs now appears to be more than probable.—South American Journal.

Muy Señores Mios,

Tengo el gusto de comunicar a Vds. que las 4 maquinas de Esquilar sistema Wolseley me han dado un resultado satisfactorio y no queria darles este informe hasta no haber concluido con la esquila de borregas. La maquina trabaja bien, esquilamos con facilidad cualquiera oveja por mas fina y arrugada que sea: saca mas lana que la tijera y tiene la ventaja de no cortar, pero si en algunos casos rasguña descuidandose el esquilador. Estas lastimaduras sanan facilmente, y se han en cada vez menos cuanto mas practica se adquiere. No he notado que se me hayan muerto animales por esta causa.

Convencido de su eficacia pienso colocar doce aparatos para la proxima esquila y creo poder hacer facilmente el trabajo con ellos. Puedo asegurar a Vds. que los esquiladores mas torpes aprenden facilmente, prefiriendolas a la tijera.

Pueden Vds. darle la publicidad que gusten.

Self-Registering Recording Clock.

This clock serves to test employees in warehouses, hospitals, parks, prisons, etc., and in general for watching over every kind of undertaking, such as railways, factories, workshops, etc., also for villages, towns and cities and for police and custom house service. Not only is it a exact timekeeper but at the same time shows clearly at a glance the special watching service on which it is used. It shows on a slip of paper the hour and minute at which it started, how much time has been employed from one point to another, and in what direction the rounds have been made. As this clock cannot get out of order, it is an infallible inspector which cannot be influenced by anybody or anything, and also contributes to avoid conflagrations and other losses, and to prevent robberies, frauds and crimes.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S
CHLORODYNE.
The original and only genuine

Advice to Invalids.—If you wish to obtain quiet refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by D. J. Collis Brown, (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, etc.

From Symes & Co', Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5, 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russel Street, Bloomsbury, London. Lear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medecine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan; but all over the East. As a remedy for general utility, we must question wether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are so sorry to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent, we could multiply instances "ad infinitum" of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Sapasms, Crampas, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative that have occurred under our personal observation dury many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm Convletion that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a deliberate Breach of Faith on the part of the Chemist to prescribe and Patient alike. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes and Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain. His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne, was, undoubtedly, the Inventor of Chlorodine; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See the "Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1 1/2d., 2s. 9d., 4. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

CAUTION.—Befare of Piracy and Imitations.

Sole Manufacturer—J. T. DAVENPORT, 33 Great Russel Street, Bloomsbury, London.
